This chart illustrates the spread of your listed Australian Equities holdings against the various sectors that make up the S&P/ASX 200.

The chart may show you are overweight, underweight or have no exposure to various sectors of the market. This is not unusual for private investors.

However, where your exposure to the market varies significantly from the S&P/ASX 200 it may indicate that the portfolio carries undue risk. This will depend on your investment aims and objectives. We recommend you discuss your portfolio weightings with your adviser.
