NEAS IS THE GLOBAL LEADER IN QUALITY ASSURANCE

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR OF THE BOARD AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

NEAS AUSTRALIA CONTINUES WITH OUR MISSION TO BE THE GLOBAL LEADER IN QUALITY ASSURANCE FOR THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE TEACHING COMMUNITY. THROUGH ADVOCACY FOR INDEPENDENT, INDUSTRY-LED AND SPECIALIST QUALITY ASSURANCE IN ENGLISH LANGUAGE TEACHING, NEAS STRIVES TO BE THE VOICE FOR QUALITY IN OUR COMMUNITY.

With the impact of COVID-19 still reverberating through our society and economy, the English Language Teaching community in Australia is striving to continue to be able to deliver high standards of learning in a fast-changing environment.

Throughout the pandemic, we have continued to support our 204 members and centres with their quality assurance. We attended and presented at more than 10 conferences and events to advocate for independent, non-governmental expert quality assurance in ELT and to stay abreast of key issues and developments in the sector. We ran 30 workshops and webinars on a variety of subjects, reaching over 1240 people. We advocated for support of the ELT sector by writing to and meeting with over 100 key stakeholders including MP's, government agencies, industry peers and peak bodies. We published 66 newsletters and articles and sent over 600,000 emails to the industry through NEAS News to over 10,000 people worldwide who rely on and trust the information that NEAS provides. We responded swiftly to the impacts of COVID19 by upgrading our website with new digital capabilities, which attracts up to 20,000 hits each month.

Through our new digital capabilities, we have continued to offer Virtual Quality Review Visits, online Health Checks, and online management meetings and consultations. Many members have also requested endorsement of their online delivery and to date we have endorsed 54 courses. We are excited about the breadth and depth of online delivery from our members and look forward to working with these endorsed centres to continue to expand online offerings to complement face to face delivery as a key strategic activity for global English language teaching.

NEAS professional development expanded significantly over the past 12 months to meet the needs of providers whose operations moved from face-to-face delivery to online remote teaching. Webinars replaced in-person workshops, NEAS core courses were streamlined and a whole new suite of Specialisations and a capstone Master Practitioner in ELT (QA) course were launched specifically to support ELT professionals in an online environment.

In July 2020, we launched a series of new initiatives for the ELT community. By expanding the reach of quality areas, a wider range of stakeholders were given the opportunity to engage in independent quality assurance. NEAS now proudly offers quality assurance services to over 400 Quality Agents, Quality Products and Service and Quality ELT Professionals. These have grown extensively over the last year, highlighting our sector's commitment to quality assurance.

In August last year, NEAS undertook surveys and interviews with members and key government and education sector stakeholders. Survey responses from 178 key NEAS stakeholders revealed that the majority believed that NEAS is a key service offering for the industry, highlighting quality assurance as essential in current times.

As a part of our advocacy strategy, in October 2020, we published a report titled 'The Role of Independent, Non-Governmental Quality Assurance Specialists for the English Language Teaching (ELT) Community in Australia'. The report was informed through stakeholder surveys, in-depth interviews, and focus groups leading to the convening of an Expert Panel in late September 2020.

Our flagship event, the NEAS Management Conference, held 4-5 May 2021, and streamed live from Doltone House Sydney was a great success this year. It attracted more than 450 participants from Australia, Colombia, Cyprus, Fiji, Indonesia, Malaysia, New Zealand, Philippines, Singapore, South Africa, Thailand, United Kingdom, United States and Vietnam. The interest in quality assurance from the sector is reassuring and the stories shared of transformative journeys by students, teachers, managers, academics, professionals and agents were heart-felt and inspiring. During the conference, we announced awards for 29 individuals and organisations across seven categories. A big thank you to everyone who attended and to our speakers, sponsors and supporters.

NEAS continues to work collaboratively with Australian stakeholders such as English Australia, University English Centres Australia (UECA), the Independent Tertiary Education Council of Australia (ITECA), the International Education Association of Australia (IEAA) and the International Student Education Agents Association (ISEAA), government departments and authorities such as the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) and the Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency (TEQSA), state governments and study travel bureaus.

On behalf of the Board and NEAS team, a huge thank you is also due to the many members who have renewed their membership over the past 12 months. We appreciate how difficult it is during this time with uncertainty around the return of international students to Australia.

NEAS remains committed to supporting our members, their staff and students through this evolving period of change and remains, as always, at your service.

2020-2021 ACTIVITIES

NEAS Quality Assurance Advocacy

NEAS continues a strong collaborative relationship with regulatory authorities, ASQA and TEQSA, engaging in ongoing information sharing and dialogue. The CEO was also invited to participate in a number of both government and sector led roundtables to provide counsel on the state and future planning of the ELT sector. NEAS has also continued to partner with and provide support to a number of peers in the ELT sector to deliver projects, provide counsel and develop frameworks. One major initiative was our partnership with Study Queensland, Trade and Investment Queensland to provide, in two stages, support for quality endorsement of online delivery of courses by Queensland ELT providers.

As a Charity registered with the ACNC, NEAS continually seeks funding opportunities through a range of grants (government or otherwise) and was recipient of a dedicated grant from the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT), as part of the Australia-Vietnam Enhanced Economic Engagement Grant (AVEG) Pilot Program. The grant supports NEAS in demonstrating Australian expertise in quality assurance of virtual delivery of English language courses to key Vietnamese Ministries. The special initiative, to be implemented between August and November 2021, enhances further Vietnamese capabilities and promotes commercial partnerships between Australian and Vietnamese ELICOS and VET providers.

Through advocacy for independent, industry-led and specialist Quality Assurance in English Language Teaching, NEAS strives to be the voice for quality in the ELT sector. NEAS' key QA advocacy goals are to represent NEAS members as leaders in Quality Assured English Language Teaching onsite, online and offshore.

NEAS ELT Professional

Over the past year, ELT Professional listing have increased significantly. NEAS ELT Professionals are individuals recognised as experts in English Language Teaching. They are listed through demonstration of integrity and commitment to professional development.

The ELT Professional site lists nearly 200 individuals who have been listed, awarded CPD points, badges and recognition of the courses and other professional development activities they have completed.

The capstone course and highlight of the professional development suite provided by NEAS, is the Master Practitioner in ELT. This project-based activity encourages participants to demonstrate their expertise in quality assurance in English language teaching and highlights their contribution to the industry.

ELT Professional listings are free of charge and are also an opportunity for individuals that are open to work to self promote whilst showcasing their skills.

NEAS Online

NEAS has significantly expanded the number and variety of PD offerings on NEAS Online over the past 12 months. There are now over 150 webinars, events, masterclasses and online courses available to members for training and professional development requirements. NEAS Online is also home to all sessions from the 2021 Management Conference.

All content on NEAS Online has a number of CPD points associated to it, and accumulated points are tracked and recorded via ELT Professionals listings. PD 'Tracks' have been developed for different members of the ELT community to assist them in accessing and completing relevant PD for their job requirements and special interests.

Over the past year, there has been a huge increase in both NEAS Online user registrations, and course click and completion rates across the platform.

COVID-19 Response

Throughout the year, NEAS worked to execute the second stage of its three-year COVID-19 'Respond, Revive and Thrive Plan'. In this stage, ensuring that Quality Assurance was at the forefront of rebuilding the ELT community. NEAS' achievements in this space included endorsing wider aspects of the ELT ecosystem, identifying and providing support to individuals and organisations in need, gaining further support from government, develop communities of practice and delivering a global stakeholder symposium in a blended format.

NEAS Quality Assurance

NEAS advances education by providing independent quality assurance services to everyone in the ELT community. Our key research report, The Role of Independent, Non-Governmental Quality Assurance Specialists for the English Language Teaching Community in Australia, released in October 2020, provided in depth analysis of the impact that NEAS quality assurance has on the ELT sector and demonstrates the value that NEAS Endorsement brings to teaching, learning and assessment and the student experience. The report found that NEAS continues to pro-actively engage with its stakeholders through active listening and soliciting constructive feedback in a process of continuous improvement for the sector. By doing so, NEAS was able to meet the complex challenges of 2020 and inspired future quality assurance advocacy and engagement for the ELT community and ecosystem.

Alongside its valuable contribution to ELT providers, NEAS recognises the vital role of a range of key stakeholders in the ELT community and has in 2020-21 continued to expand its Quality Assurance Framework to enable a wider range of stakeholders the opportunity to engage in independent quality assurance. The addition of new Quality Areas, Education Agents, Products and Services, and ELT Professionals strengthens the sector's ability to set, meet and exceed quality goals in the provision of services to international students.

In response to the COVID disruption on education delivery, NEAS swiftly provided a new Endorsed Online Course offering. This endorsement has been warmly welcomed by our providers, with over 50 online courses endorsed already.

NEAS Quality Assurance Framework and Activity Summary

NEAS provides Quality Assurance services and support through its unique stakeholder-driven feedback model of Quality Endorsement. - G. Strategy, Risk and Governance
- H. Online Delivery

NEAS' Quality Review has nimbly moved online to provide smooth and continuous quality assurance services to Members and stakeholders in Australia and abroad, even during periods of restricted social contact and travel.

The ongoing process for maintaining NEAS Quality Endorsement has been streamlined and made more agile to meet the diverse quality assurance needs of our members. Providers participate in an annual Quality Review cycle, alternating between two requisite activities: a Quality Review Visit, either onsite or virtual and an online Self-Assessment. NEAS has developed a suite of Health Checks against each area of the Quality Assurance Framework, which may serve as quick and helpful diagnostic tools to support members with completing NEAS Quality Review activities and to serve as a guide for ongoing continuous improvement initiatives.
