Introduction

On behalf of the NEAS Board of Directors, it gives me great pleasure to explore opportunities to collaborate with our Sponsors, Supporters and Members. This Sponsorship Prospectus aims to allow you to choose how best to work with us in achieving our mutual goals of promoting Quality Assurance in the English Language Teaching sector. There are a variety of packages available with differentiating factors such as booth size and proximity, advertising exposure and exclusive conference event sponsorship such as the gala dinner and awards ceremony. There are also a number of sponsorship opportunities available in relation to the online platform, which attracted 1,460 delegates in 2022.

Planning for the 2023 theme, speaker sessions and workshops are well underway. The 2023 theme is English Language Teaching: The Profession, The Professional and Professionalism. The program promises to be of a high calibre, with over 40 speakers from around the world showcasing their knowledge and providing industry insights to delegates. The physical and virtual exhibitions are an integral part of the conference for our sponsors, presenting the opportunity to raise their profile within the ELT sector and liaise directly with delegates (both onsite and online). As always, the exhibition hall is the central hub with delegates meeting there to enjoy all catering throughout the three days. NEAS also runs competitions to attract delegates to sponsor booths encouraging interaction and networking. In response to delegate feedback, in 2022 we brought back the Gala Dinner! This fun social event is another ideal opportunity for connection between sponsors and delegates and will be the highlight of the conference. In 2023 we are adding new elements to the conference - a Familiarisation Tour to the great campuses of our NSW members, pre-conference workshops and an Industry Roundtable on Day 1. Day 2 will featured prominent Industry Keynote Speakers and Day 3 will feature our Communities of Practice and Sponsor-Supported Business Development Workshops.

It is our aim to work efficiently with you, by helping and promoting your business to achieve international exposure through sponsorship of the NEAS conference. We look forward to working with you in the lead up to the conference and seeing you in Sydney in May 2023 for the 26th annual NEAS Management Conference.
